2nd ADESyD CONGRESS "Sharing views on Security"

The Association of Spanish Graduates in Security and Defense (ADESyD), will hold the "2nd Congress of ADESyD" in Madrid next November 24th under the heading "Sharing Views on Security".

With this meeting, we wish to contribute to the strengthening of a co-responsibility culture, through scientific rigor and a wide-ranging, open and generous debate, while maintaining a comprehensive approach as key academic principle.

The evolution of our current context reflects the persistence of risks and threats which develop transnationally and materialize in different aspects of our security, as reflected on the Second "2014 Annual National Security Report": from the most conventional-linked to our national defense requirements- to the most non-conventional ones, as those related to terrorism, armed conflicts, biological threats, and those affecting information security, food safety or climate change, among others.

This "2nd ADESyD Congress" keeps the format of the first edition. Aware of the contemporaneity and urgency of certain threats, the Organizing Committee encourages its associates and the public in general, to attend and debate with those who will present their works. These will underline the wide and complex relationship between the different areas and fields of our security.
